

Government Asks Questions Regarding Road Paving

At a well attended meeting of the Didsbury and District Board of Trade, held in the Lions hall on Monday night, Mr. Carlton Leeson was named president for the current year. Mr. Jack Myer will be his second-in-command. Mr. John Folkman will carry on as secretary-treasurer.

With better attendance than usual, the meeting was able to tangle with several important subjects.

Discussion took place on the prospects of a chronic hospital for the immediate area. The Old Police Home was also on the evening's agenda. Those two matters will be taken up with the powers that be in Edmonton.

Neighboring towns will be contacted as to their plans for Saturday closing hours.

The meeting decided that a letter be sent to the town council requesting stricter supervision as regards speeding on town streets. This problem is becoming more serious by the day and should be taken care of now before someone gets hurt — real bad!

The board passed with the idea of a Spring Shopping Carnival. No definite decision was made at this meeting.

This year the group expect to have an increased membership; the president will call them into a huddle at any time he deems it necessary.

We do hope the road patrol will make it over the roads back west very soon and we do hope that this year we will see them several times. Remember there are people living west of the Bergen road and they do have to travel the roads and are entitled to a fair amount of consideration.

Carlton Leeson To Head Local Board Of Trade

A delegation from the south end of town met with the local town council on Monday evening to discuss the possibilities of having the water and sewage lines extended to the area they live in. An estimate will be prepared of the cost. From there a petition will have to be circulated, which will require signatures of two-thirds of those concerned. Further action on the part of the council awaits this decision.

Building permits were issued to the Olds School Division for an addition to the town school, and to George McDonald for a dwelling. The dog by-law mentioned elsewhere in this issue, is definitely on the books and will be enforced. The gist of it is, "keep your backyards under control or the hamster will fall."

A letter was read from the provincial government asking for information as to which roads in town were most in need of a hardtop. Council agreed the stretch from the tracks to the hospital should get the first treatment and the material, or mileage, left over should be planted on both ends of the "front" street.

A new business tax, based on floor space, rather than rental value, will go into effect as of May 1st 1959.

What Other Papers Say . . .

OUR FRIEND
 THE FARMER

Of all tradesmen, the farmer works hardest to create the impression that he's as hard as an acre of bare land at frost-time while in reality he's as soft as a spring-plowed field. He's got a good heart, but he's afraid to let other people know it.

He comes to the newspaper office and stoutly maintains that three dollars is too much to pay for a year's subscription. Then on the way out, with receipt in hand, he allows as how the paper isn't too bad after all. He goes to store in town and sometimes uses colorful language to protest about the quality of the goods, or the service, or the price. But let some outsider visit the district, and call down central Alberta, and the farmer is the first to leap.

When it comes to weather, the farmer is in a class by himself. We all complain more or less about the cold winters, but the spring and summer and fall seasons belong to the farmer alone! He bellyaches when a wet spring delays seeding, and if nice weather permits him to work the land early then it's to dry. During the summer months, his impatience with the weatherman grows and develops with every acre of maturing grain in the fields. He wanders moisture in June and July to bring on his crops of barley and oats and wheat, but frequently rainfalls disrupt his having operations so he isn't happy then either. At least as he would make you believe. And in fall he has a beautiful time second-guessing the weatherman for not bringing more warm days of sunshine for the harvest. Despite his many troubles, real and imaginary, the farmer in this rich agricultural area still manages somehow to put away a better-than-average crop in the bin, and his cattle and hogs seem to be fat and well cared for after a summer in pasture.

He puts up a crusty front, and he's independent by nature. But he's quick to help a neighbor in need, and many times it has been The Globe's pleasure to recount the story of a dozen or more farmers who band together with their own equipment to seed or harvest a whole crop for some friend lying ill in hospital. That same day, the wives cook all the meals and they may also house-clean and work in the garden.

The farmer has a lot of other good qualities besides a carefully-concealed soft heart. He's a smart businessman. He's a good administrator. He's an excellent mechanic, because he can't afford to stop his machinery in the middle of the field everytime a screw or bolt works loose. He's a handy carpenter around the house and barn. He's a lover of animals, and he knows how to handle them as well as a veterinarian. He's honest. Being close to the soil, he's down-to-earth, and candid in his views which he's not afraid to express. He's filled with homespun philosophy.

The farmer is also a chronic worrier, and soon another growing season will be upon us. We look forward to hearing a farmer state anew his grumbles of discontent, because he's our friend.

THE DRUMMELLER MAIL feels that . . . It would be presumptuous of the writer to expound on the rights and wrongs of the situation in Newfoundland with too much certainty. However, it appears from where we stand, that Premier Smallwood is setting an example of courage and determination that might well be looked to as an example by others.

In some unions trade unionism has gone very far beyond the basic purpose for which unionism was founded and which it performs the important and necessary tasks. We find some factions of trade unionism deserting the principles of democracy which they proposed to support, and employing bullying and gangster-like tactics that are altogether revolting.

These tactics are not directed by the membership at large so much as by a handful of irresponsible leaders who are far removed from the rank and file and are more interested in their own positions than CUTWORMS: — With the advent of spring our thoughts are turning to crops and gardening. It is still fresh in our minds about the damage caused last year to growing crops and gardens by cutworms. Quite a few people have been asking me what steps to take to safeguard their crops and also the housewives will be interested to know that there is something they can do to safeguard their gardens. There are several materials that can be used on field scale. These insecticides are Endrin, Dieldrin, Aldrin and Heptachlor. They are listed in the order of performance and each material must be mixed with water and applied with a weed sprayer that will apply 10 gallons water per acre. Endrin has gained a great deal of favor by farmers who have used it since it has longer residual effect than the other materials. All of those materials are very poisonous and extreme caution is urged on those who will be using it. Cost-wise it will run in the neighborhood of $1 to $1.25 per acre for the chemical.

For the gardener Aldrin dust is recommended. 1 pound of Aldrin dust will do about 200 square feet and will cost about 85 or 90 cents. This dust is sprinkled in the row with the seeds at the time of planting and covered up with the seeds. This Aldrin dust will not only control cut-worms but also wire-worms and other grubs.

STILL TRYING . . .

In an eccentric kind of way I am still in favor of the human race.

New Deal in Fire Protection . . .

The Didsbury Rural Fire Protection Association is on the move, under the direction of the town fire chief, L. Dickau. Purpose of the group is to afford better fire protection for the rural areas surrounding Didsbury. A canvass will be made in the near future to raise funds for necessary equipment for the extended fire protection plan. Sounds like a good deal — might even lower insurance rates!

Just For The Record . . .

If our memory serves us correctly, there is a by-law on the town books that requires dog-owners to maintain closer control of their pets at this time of year. If there is such a by-law we've seen no instances this Spring where it has been enforced. There are a number of canines running loose in some sections of the town, causing damage to lawns, trees, shrubs, plants, etc., which are just starting to show signs of life in the new season. Are we wrong in our assumption that a dog by-law does exist? If it's on the books let's do something about it, but soon! If it's not on the books, let's see it put there! Are we asking too much?

PRISON WALLS

MAKE A JAIL

The shooting of Abe Sawatsky, Bowden Institution staff member, last week by a teenage inmate should be taken by officials in Edmonton as positive proof that a wall should be erected around the present structure, the guards armed and tower guns adequately placed. The shot that hit Sawatsky came within less than an inch of being fatal. The situation that followed the shooting could easily have resulted in several killings.

The staff at the Bowden Institution as we see it, are handicapped, beyond all reason, consequently, jail breaks from Bowden are reaching the rate of four to six a month. Unless more authority and proper equipment are given the guards at the Bowden Institution the whole scheme will be a costly farce and will result in one or more deaths.

Farmers in the area each time there is an escape lead an unpleasant life, and judging by the incident Tuesday, are living under threat of being shot.

Nor was Tuesday's shooting the first serious bodily harm to guards at Bowden Institution.

Bowden escapes each year are costing this area thousands of dollars in stolen property, cars, clothing and food stuff. It seems unreasonable that such a situation should be tolerated.

Kindness to criminals is a fine theory but it should not cause concern, yes even alarm, to law abiding people farming in this area.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

God's goodness and all-power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon.
Scriptural readings will include these verses from Psalms (103: 2-3): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forsweth all thine enemies, who healeth all thy diseases."
Also emphasizing the harmonious nature of God's creation are selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including (471:25-30): "That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God."

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD FULCHER
District Agriculturist

The place of forage crops in our farming program is fully known. They provide good nutritious fodder in the form of pasture and hay for our livestock. These crops also build up the fertility and fibre content of the soil, preventing serious erosion from wind or water as well as maintaining the productivity level of the land.

The seeding of both grass and legume crops is fairly well understood, and many improved varieties are available. With the knowledge we have today the risk of a good catch or a spotty stand is relatively small. Many of our poorly established forage stands are due to seeding too deep and in some cases not a firm enough seed bed. To obtain a satisfactory stand the rate of seeding must be heavy enough, the seed of good quality and the seed bed firm. Legume seed must be inoculated and seeded relatively shallow, some grass seeds will survive a little deeper seeding but generally 1/2 to an inch is a satisfactory depth of seeding.

It is well before purchase of seed to carefully consider what use you will make of the crop for the next few years and the type of soil as well as the topography of the land. Alfalfa for instance gives large tonnage of high quality hay but in pasturing too much alfalfa in a mixture will increase danger of bloat. Reed Canary grass will do well on areas which are low and subject to prolonged flooding. Creeping Red Fescue is an excellent pasture grass, providing early and late season pasture with a firm sod.

Anyone planning on seeding forage is invited to call at this office and obtain information and literature, and discuss any particular situation regarding grass and legume crops.

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The A Capella Choir is very busy each weekend appearing in various churches in the Province to present their splendid concert. On Sunday they sang in both the Montgomery and Parkdale United Missionary Churches of Calgary. On Sunday night this coming week they will sing in the United Missionary Church, Didsbury. You will want to hear them.

President and Mrs. Taylor and family were guests in the home of Paul Lancaster, Calgary on the occasion of the birthday celebration for Mr. Taylor's father.

Mrs. Finlay, Mrs. Suder and Miss Eby were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Eby on Sunday. The speech recital to decide the winners in the John Suder Speech Award contest was held on Thursday evening in the students centre. Six young people participated as finalists and the judges awarded the first place to Miss Anne Snyder, and second place to Miss Evelyn Shauer. These young ladies are to be congratulated for their accomplishment and ability to quote and read Scripture. A high light of the evening was a sketch from MacBeth interpreted by Ann Snyder as the doctor, Evelyn Shauer as the lady-in-waiting, and Doreen Rossing as Lady MacBeth. It was well done, and we shall not forget the emotional qualities of Lady MacBeth in this scene. The evening was further made interesting by the presentation of the play "Remission" written by Mr. Peter Waldin. We always look forward to these plays for they are always very good. Eight members of the speech class took part in this and did their work well.

Mr. Waldin accompanied his Scout Troop on their annual outing, west of Didsbury, during the last week. On Wednesday afternoon a number of friends visited the camp on the Davis farm and the boys demonstrated their ability to cook a meal in the open. We understand there were 25 boys attending this camp.

The president's house is well under way. Grate work is being done by a number of friends. This house must be finished before Mr. Taylor leaves for Winona Lake School of Theology to finish his course leading to Master of Arts in Theology. This house will be real addition to the College and we are all happy that it is being built. Perhaps you want to assist with it in one way or another also.

On Thursday the Seniors were given an hour for their annual chapel. Mr. Laverne Neufeld, capable president of the Associated Student Body for the past year, gave his final message to the students and presented the student project for the coming year. The student centre has been a means of satisfaction to the students during the winter, but because of indebtedness on it, the student body took a further project for it, so that the costs could be met fully during the summer. This was done, and although the objective was $2400, the students surpassed that and during the summer months will be meeting their obligations. This student centre will indeed be a memorial to faithful young people who really appreciate the Bible College and the instruction they have received here. They recognize that their lives have been established in true Christian living and essentials of life have been studied so that their contribution to their generation can be what it ought to be. We appreciate our young folk who feel it worthwhile to set aside a few years to study the greatest Book in the world, and to give attention to the most lasting values in life, the spiritual.

How To Reduce Your Income Tax

In the current Liberty magazine, John Dalrymple offers tips on how to stretch your income tax dollar. Here are a few:

1. Bills from ambulance fares, drugs prescribed by your dentist and physician, prescription eye-glasses, can be deducted as medical expense if they were paid after June 17, 1958.

2. Dependents can earn up to $950 and still be claimed. A school girl who married last year can be claimed by her parents and her husband.

3. A full $250 deduction for babies born in December, 1958, can be claimed.

4. Income from rented property is taxable, but you can claim deductions for insurance and maintenance costs.

5. Contributions from children for household expenses are not taxable. Board paid by a relative is tax-free, unless you are running a boarding house.

6. Scholarships and gifts are not taxable, unless you must perform some service for them.

7. You can deduct 20% of dividends paid by taxable Canadian corporations.

8. Immigrants must pay income tax for rent received on the home they left behind — even if currency restrictions prevent bringing the money into this country.

9. Cash received as beneficiary of an insurance policy is not taxable; but if you're bequeathed an income from an estate you have to pay tax on it.

10. Unless you're a professional gambler, winnings aren't taxable.

11. Union dues or membership fees in any necessary professional organization are deductible.

12. You don't have to pay income tax on dividends from life insurance and endowment policies.

13. Alimony payments are deductible.

14. File your income tax return before April 30, even if you can't pay your tax just then. There's a fine of up to $500 for not filing.

THIS PHASE SHOULD BE EXPLORED

The charge has been made by union leaders and backed up by the common railroad employee that railway management has been guilty of the very thing that management has charged against the railway workers . . . feather bedding. In other words, there are too many high priced officers for the number of feet, alleging "soldiers" used in the railway operations. The public should be given the benefits of an impartial survey in this connection.
